

oregon's mt. hood

three resorts, one mountain

As Oregon's tallest peak, Mt. Hood is home to three incredible and diverse resorts. Timberline Lodge & Ski Area is the only ski-in/ski-out lodge in the state, Mt. Hood Skibowl has the largest night skiing terrain in the United States and Mt. Hood Meadows offers more than 2,150 acres (870 hectares) of skiing.

Conveniently located just 90 minutes from Portland International Airport, on Mt. Hood you can ski with locals, enjoy a beer at a craft brewery, spend the night in a historic lodge and experience what makes Oregon a truly special place.

America's largest night ski area and the closest ski resort to Portland, Mt. Hood Skibowl provides some of the best terrain on Mt. Hood. In addition to having the most black diamond runs in Oregon, Skibowl features the Snow Tube and Adventure Park, making it a favorite among families and groups.

Summit Elevation: 1554m Base Elevation: 1097m
Avg. Annual Snowfall: 7.6m Ski Terrain: 960 acres
Runs: 65 runs, 34 night runs Longest Run: 4.8km
Beginner: 20% Intermediate: 20% Expert: 60%

www.skibowl.com

The only ski area in North America that is open all 12 months of the year, Timberline Lodge and Ski Resort features 1,125 vertical meters, which is more than any other location in the Pacific Northwest. The historic lodge is the only ski-in/ski-out lodge in Oregon.

Summit Elevation: 2603m Base Elevation: 1509m
Avg. Annual Snowfall: 10.2m Ski Terrain: 1415 acres
Runs: 41 Longest Run: 5km
Beginner: 25% Intermediate: 50% Advanced: 25%

www.timberlinelodge.com

Mt. Hood Meadows offers the greatest variety of terrain in the state of Oregon. Experts will revel in backcountry skiing at legendary Heather Canyon and the Pacific Northwest's most advanced fleet of grooming machines assures surface conditions are optimal.

Summit Elevation: 2225m Base Elevation: 1379m
Avg. Annual Snowfall: 10.9m Ski Terrain: 2150 acres
Runs: 85 Longest Run: 4.8km
Beginner: 10% Intermediate: 55%
Advanced: 15% Expert: 20%

www.skihood.com

Location

Oregon is located on the West Coast of the United States, below Washington State and above California. Mt. Hood is located an hour and a half east of Portland, the largest city in Oregon.

Lodging

Mt. Hood provides the perfect place to stay during your adventure including The Resort at the Mountain in Welches, Timberline Lodge, Collins Lake Vacation Rentals and the Best Western Mt. Hood Inn in Government Camp and Best Western Sandy in Sandy.

The Villages of Mt. Hood

Government Camp and Welches are the closest towns to the three ski resorts and provide everything for your winter adventure including lodging, dining and shopping as well as equipment rentals and cultural activities.

Suggested Ski Oregon Itinerary

Fly into Portland International Airport, enjoy two days exploring Portland, three days skiing Mt. Hood and three days skiing Mt. Bachelor.

For more information on Oregon's Mt. Hood visit www.mthoodterritory.com

